SECTION FOUR

General Principles

Article 6 - Students are obliged to use the clothes they wear in accordance with the provisions of the Dress Code Regulations with the cleanliness and care befitting the dignity of a university student. A complement to the uniform is the general dress and behaviour of the students. Male students of the Faculty of Aviation and Space Sciences are responsible for shaving their beards on a daily basis (no beards, moustaches, long sideburns, etc.). If the hair of female students is long, it must be tied up, and the hair of male students must be short and unpainted. The most important principle in dress and attire is to avoid any clothing, attire, clothing, clothing, accessories, décolleté and make-up that will prevent students from focusing on their lessons, distract or draw attention to themselves. It is not appropriate for students to enter the lessons in sea clothes, sports clothes (except sports clothes), night clothes, home clothes (slippers, pajamas, etc.). Students should not wear tattoos, jewellery, clothes, etc. that contain writings, symbols, signs and symbols that are inappropriate for social values, and should prefer "casual" or "semi-formal" (jacket, tie) clothing within the university boundaries.

a. Hygiene (all activities and measures taken for a healthy life)

Students should have neat and well-groomed hair, clean and short nails. Students should pay attention to their dental health. Students' personal hygiene should be complete, taking into account that they live in a semi-tropical climate, measures should be taken to prevent the formation of unpleasant odors. It is not appropriate to take off shoes in closed areas. Students should avoid excessive use of fragrances (perfume, deodorant, etc.) that will prevent them from focusing on their lessons, distract or draw attention to themselves.

b. Accessories

Students should remove their sunglasses, hats, caps, berets, etc. as accessories during the lesson in closed areas, should not wear their headphones during the lesson and should not use their mobile phones under any circumstances (mobile phones should be kept in a closed or silent place, in a bag or pocket if possible, and should not be in visible places).

Apart from the Regulation, requests for the use and application of clothing and dress code will be put into effect after a written application is made to the Faculty Secretariat and evaluated and decided by the relevant units of the faculty.
